

A photograph of a street scene in Linhares, ES, Brazil. The image shows a wet asphalt road with a concrete curb and sidewalk in the foreground. Several cars are visible: a white car on the left, a dark car with its trunk open in the center, and a black car on the right. In the background, there are modern houses and a large billboard for 'Esplanada' real estate. The sky is overcast. The image is overlaid with a large, semi-transparent text box in the top right corner containing the date, time, address, and location.
